[FEELING THERMOMETERS]

[DISPLAY]
[ftintro]

Please look at the graphic below.

We'd like to get your feelings toward some people and groups who are in the news these days using something we call the feeling thermometer.

Ratings between 50 degrees and 100 degrees mean that you feel favorable and warm toward the person or group. Ratings between 0 degrees and 50 degrees mean that you don't feel favorable and warm toward the person or group. You would rate them at the 50 degree mark if you don't feel particularly warm or cold toward them.

If you come to a person or group that you don't recognize at all, you don't need to rate them. Just leave the box empty and go on to the next person or group.

Now we have some questions about different groups in our society. We're going to show you a seven-point scale on which the characteristics of the people in a group can be rated. A score of '7' means that you think most people in the group are 'untrustworthy.' A score of '4' means that you think that most people in the group are not closer to one end or the other, and of course, you may choose any number in between.
